The Premises:

V nice flat about 15 mins walk from Carlisle Station in the old Dixons building (stonking great chimney). Street parking or use Farmfoods - everybody else does! Good facilities in flat. As she was on tour this may not be always her venue though.

The Lady:

Very well put together mixed race lady, natural large but firm breasts and hourglass figure, reminiscent of the Bilquis character from American Gods, if you've seen it.

The Story:

Communication was excellent throughout and she was ready on time (I mention that as a recent trend I have observed is been made to wait by escorts because they aren't ready or can't organise themselves). I had a quick shower and was asked to lie on the bed. She did a bit of massage then asked me if I would like a blow job which was of about standard quality (nothing clever like some girls). In fact that was the whole experience was a standard tick box service as we went through a series of escort services, all professionally performed but nothing natural about the process. Things were not helped by her skittishness which she put down to having worked as a prison nurse, so I was to give her prior warning of any moves I wanted to make.

So in summary a professional but uninspired service and ultimately not very satisfying to me.

May be different for others so I have gone for a neutral recommendation, as somebody else might want that sort of thing or maybe we just didn't connect and somebody else might.
