The Story:

I visit London several times a year on business and always try to fix an appointment with Linda on these trips. She is a very attractive lovely lady and is great company. She is also an accomplished disciplinarian who can deliver the sound thrashing I need from time to time. My latest session with her followed our usual routine. She secured me firmly over her bench, ensuring that I was unable to wriggle around. She then administered a long hard caning from cold, using a heavy cane. Linda has a strong right arm and does not hold back when she is in disciplinarian mode. She gave me a really good going over, laying on the strokes in a steady rhythm and allowing enough time between each stroke for me to feel the full effect. I know of course that she would stop if I asked her, but I prefer to let her decide when I've been sufficiently punished and she judges that to perfection.

Thank you, Linda, for another cathartic punishment session and I'll see you again on my next trip.
