The Lady:

As described on her website - nice figure and quite attractive. Fake boobs but slim and sexy

The Story:

Good communication in the run up to the meet. She told me when she'd be with me and let me know she was running late. Arrived as per her updated timing.

Nice friendly chat and flirt over a soft drink and all was going well after she got changed and we went into the bedroom. Played around, she gave me a nice suck (condom on). I laid her in bed and gave her oral and then went to slip inside her. I know I've got a thick dick but never prevented me from fucking anyone before. Her pussy seemed wet when I'd played with her and I managed to slide in although she made me do it really slowly. Then she was moaning - but with (allegedly) pain not pleasure every time I gave a slow stroke in and out.

Must say - she was a nice tight fit but the noises of pain didn't match how it felt to me at all.... if this was not a paid punt I'd have expected us to speed up a bit and things would have got going nicely. But she made such a fuss about me being so thick - even saying I should have told her and she wouldn't usually meet a VWE guy. She hadn't asked me and her website says nothing about this.

In the end I pulled out thinking we'd try again. But she wasn't having that and after sitting on my face I ended up just asking her to wank me over her boobs.

All a bit awkward then. She made clear there wasn't going to be any more fucking and when I left the room for a moment she got dressed. This is now about 40 mins into what's supposed to be a 2 hour encounter. I'd paid her £250 up front. She gave me £50 back as if she was being really generous.

Couldn't make a fuss as it was my apartment and didn't want her making a load of noise if it got nasty, so I basically paid £200 for 40 mins, a good chunk of which was her telling me how my cock was too big for a proper fuck.

Felt like a scam and as soon as she saw that option (as I have a decent sized cock) she went for it.

Service Provider's Rebuttal

This review is totally unfair and actually also incorrect. The 'gentleman' in question was very large and even though I asked him to be gentle he thrust right inside me extremely hard and I felt something tear. I should have actually left straight away but I tried to be professional and stayed to pleasure him. The booking was 90 mins for £200 and I stayed for nearly an hour (my minimum fee is £150 for up to an hour) so I gave him £50 back.

I was unable to work for a week afterwards as I was so sore and he showed no concern at all - in fact he was trying to fuck me again!!! What an abusive horrible man!!
