The Premises:

Francesca's flat is in a 1960's block near Paddington station. It's clean inside, with a bathroom/shower, and a converted massage room.

The room itself is dimly-lit, though there are candles and it's a nice ambience.

The Lady:

Francesca is a white English lady, possibly 5' 3" in height. She has short blonde hair, and is really pretty. To model standards and could do well as a model in reality. She looks like a D/E cup, and has a near flawless body with a silver belly button stud.

If I were to hazard a guess at her age, I'd say late 30s to early 40s. She has a light RP accent, and whilst born in the UK lived in Australia for a while, so occasionally she pronounces some words with a slight Aussie twang.

Overall, she's a near 10/10 looks wise.

The Story:

I don't get to London often, but when I do, I do my best to visit Francesca.

She only does tantric massages, with HR and prostate massage, and no oral or intercourse.

After arranging a time and date via SMS, I arrived and she greeted me with the open and offered me to have a shower. Her bathroom is well-stocked, and it has a range of shower gels on offer. As a regular, I do my best to not leave a mess, as it's not pleasant after all. After a few minutes showering, I entered the massage room, which is dimly lit but very atmospheric given the setting.

I opted for the £100 massage, which was done with her topless (and with her beautiful boobs on view of course), with HR at the end.

Typically though, she starts with a brief body massage, with the client sitting on the massage table and her rubbing my torso and back with oil.

After this, which takes roughly five minutes, she moves onto me getting on my back, and then kneading my back, arms, and legs. Her strokes are firm but not hard or vigorous, and this destresses the muscles well.

During the session, we just talked about random stuff, such as the lockdown/pandemic, religious items, etc. and she seems knowledgeable about various topics.

She then moved me to my front, and did the same kneading with oil. Once that was done, she rubbed my bum and cheeks and then my anus slightly and asked if I wanted prostate massage. I

I said yes, and then with a glove she oiled me arse up and inserted two fingers in. She initially worked in slowly, but once she hit my prostate I started to gasp and moan.

This continued for about five minutes, until she asked me if I wanted to get up on all fours, which I did. Then she was essentially finger-fucking my arse, and going deep and hitting my prostate and I was moaning like a bitch. It was bliss really, and she was expertly hitting my spots with distinction. Simultaneously, she was wanking my cock too, but it was so good that she went in my arse really deeply.

During the excitement, I had a couple of genuine prostate orgasms, where I jerked and writhed in joy.
