The Premises:

Paddington flat to a familiar place where I have met plenty of girls in that area. The flat was clean and nice, modern shower facilities, clean towel, so ticks the box for the incall location.

The Lady:

Medium height, natural b cup, wider chest 36 min, not perky, youthful, but I didn't really like them anyways. Her ass and face are great, particularly the teeth gap that made her face look very sexy. Pussy not shaved so natural hair. Kallista is naturally dominant so for most men I feel like there are better girls to spend your money on who pay attention to clients during the meet, who are sensual. She is not a bad Call girl, just have to book her for the right purpose, i.e Dominant mistress, or you won't feel right or fulfilled with her.

The Story:

It might be harsh to say that the experience was unremarkable but that's the aftertaste for me; not because the mechanics of sex was bad although there is that, more so the 0 connection available throughout(despite my best efforts) and the distinct dominant side of her that is hard to ignore.

Mainly picked her because I expected her to have few toys to play with mainly a vibrator as I have never used one on a working girl before(Any really). The vibrator was okay, her showing me the right spots and technique but admittedly I do a much much better job with my tongue than these stupid toys.

She was interrupted by her watch every 5 minutes answering messages which wouldn't work with her watch therefore using her phone instead, in the middle of a cowgirl action ..... not an ideal situation. The first time it happened, I just let slide but this happened multiple multiple times including the first 5 minutes of me going down on her.

The experience was for a lack of a better word just unremarkable. For one there was no connection between us, and she is mainly focused on me cumming rather than enjoying myself, as I felt rushed through the session. I could enjoy myself, not come and leave super happy.

She is a mistress and my research on her prior showed that she is violent, dominant, will make you cry, and generally have no mercy, but I thought she might have two sides; well no. I wanted to take a souvenir picture which I always do and add that picture and review to my Dayone Journal account as a personal journal of these encounters I have in London. She finally agreed to let me take a picture of the vibrator we used which she placed on the bed; I was Naughty perhaps as I clicked on the zoom out 0.5 which now included her toe in the picture when I captured it, she smacked me a full force for that, and I was shocked with that tbh. Obviously, offered to delete it if they pissed her off, but she just let me have it.

you have to keep in mind that her mistress role is not a joke, she is very dominant and that affects the sensual, romantic experience massively for me which simply makes her not my type. She wouldn't let me play with her nipples unless super soft and would tell me off every now and then for spanking(I was never too hard).

If you want a dominant mistress she is very natural. Not only does she have the experience, equipment, and willingness to play rough on you, she is born that way, but that's not what I was looking for.

Is this a negative review then? not necessarily. Recommend? Only as a dominant mistress and if she stops using her phone in the middle of a booking. Get rid of that stupid watch.

I also felt like she was cold throughout, and when occasionally friendly, just felt very fake.

One pop rule too obviously.
