The Story:

I've been following 'Lulu Black' on Twitter for a while now and decided to take the plunge and book an encounter in London. My tastes lean towards the submissive and after a bit of back and forth with the agency (the operator is non-nonsense but ruthlessly efficient), I settled on Sophie who offers dominatrix style services as well as more vanilla offerings. My requests were reasonably straightforward: foot and heel worship, pegging and watersports, all of which Sophie delivered with energy and enthusiasm. She understands BDSM well and didn't break from character, even when we went to dinner after the action! Her wardrobe and mannerisms were immaculate if FLRs are your thing. I cannot comment on standard escort services as obviously I wasn't after those, but the whole encounter was really quite thrilling and not something I have done since pre-pandemic. I will book Sophie again, maybe as a duo with one of the other 'domme' ladies available. Two's company, three's excessively cruel!
