The Story:

Sam turned up a few minutes early, smartly dressed and presentable (eminently suitable for most social functions) and quickly made me feel at ease with her casual and easy-going nature.

We enjoyed a glass of wine whilst we sorted out the commercial aspects of the liaison, and then got down to business.

I put some erotic music on, then laid back as she danced whilst slowly removing her clothes (and mine). It was the most provocative lap-dance that I've ever had the pleasure of experiencing, unfettered as she was from any restrictions over physical contact. I could tell she'd done that before!

Before long we were sucking and fucking each other on the living room floor ..... she took me exactly where I wanted to go then brought me gently down again.

Afterwards, I poured her another glass of wine and we chatted easily for about 20 mins about such weighty matters as holidays / work / life / football. Not wishing to do her an injustice I'd have to point out that she's not actually a football fan (strange girl), but she did at least have the courtesy to appear interested at NCFC's prospects for 2003.

She's well travelled, especially around Europe, and seems to have a very pragmatic and level headed view of the world (this girl's got a brain as well as a beautiful bod). Before long I was feeling horny again, so we fucked one more time in various positions before parting.

The only slight disappointment was that she refused to kiss on the lips, irrespective of the inducements that were on offer. Still, that aside it was a bloody good shag with a bloody lovely lady.

I wish I could persuade her to have my babies.

Alternatively I wish her every success in the future (be nice to her guys).
