The Premises:

Located in a row of shops on the main road in what is a fairly residential area. Nobody pays much attention to your arrival. It is down a short alleyway, between the newsagents and sandwich shop.

The Lady:

Dark skinned, dark hair, about 5ft 8 inches and aged about 30 I would guess. Incredibly slender and trim, pert breasts.

The Story:

Well I am fast becoming a seasoned consumer of Sandy's finest and my latest visit saw me in the company of Morgan. Five down about ten to go.

I can well understand her 'superstar' rating and popularity as previously described on PunterNet and enjoyed every minute of my time with her. I thought it rather funny that she shook my hand when she introduced herself, especially given that within 5 minutes she was shaking far more than my hand. There's nothing like being polite is there?

Morgan got down to business quite quickly, no beating around the bush here ! Her 'o' technique is well famed and she has doubtless been able to develop her reputation on this alone, without any other delights. She provides good, energetic sex and even breaks out into a sweat in the process.

I will one day go to the great massage parlour in the sky with one over-riding impression of Morgan - her agility ! Boy can she move around the bed, and even at one stage suggested the floor but that was not to my liking. I was unaware that Morgan is a part-time lap dancer and that accounted for her ability to move all over me like a slithering snake. She introduced toys into our session and may I say, made particularly good use of them, even at one time even massaging my balls whilst bouncing up and down of me.

Doctor Dick's Diagnosis: A well earned reputation. You can't go wrong here. My own criticisms are picky and hardly worth writing as they would detract from a true performer.

Prescription: Morgan, keep up the good work. Judging by the way you move around, you will never have to worry about arthritis.
