The Story:

I opted for full personal and asked Lee if she would do some CP. She said that she was not the expert in that field, but she would be happy to do what she could.

Well, for someone who is not an expert, she did very well indeed!

Much better than some encounters I've had with so called specialists, and all the good stuff that goes with the full personal around the CP.

Very good value and Lee obviously enjoys her work.
