Tall, thin, leggy, long black hair, good looking girl, described as being 19, which I would agree with.

The Story:

Well, this is a first for me, a bad punt at Karens! Ive always rated Karens to be one of the best in the NW, and I still do, but Im afraid this time I was very disappointed. Wether it was because I left a little late in the day or what, I dont know, but I left feeling as though Id paid for nothing. Kelly told me that she had problems, which I wont go into here, but I think really that she should not have been working that day. This is the first time that I have not a good time at Karens, having visited many, many times, and I hope that it will be the last.
