The Story:

I made an appointment to see Tricia through the excellent booking service provided by Judy's agency. Tricia rang me half an hour before the appointment to give me final directions to her home and I was able to find it quite easily. I parked in her drive and she answered the door quickly when I knocked on it. She is a small woman and has extremely nice smooth skin which I later found out is partly due to regular application of various lotions.

The whole hour was very relaxing. We started with cup of coffee and a chat, and then Judy asked if I'd like to go through to her bedroom. Once in there I suggested we start with a massage, and she did this stripped down to her underwear. This was very sensuous and I let it go on for about 15 minutes while on my front, but as usual the pace hotted up when I rolled over onto my back. Her slow hand technique with baby oil gel on my bits was wonderful and I wanted it to go on for ever but realised that my hour was rapidly going and while I was in some sort of trance-like state with all the fond attention Tricia was giving me, I didn't want to leave without working through the full menu.

I asked her take off the rest of her underwear and indulged in some oral (on her). She was clean, warm and moist and I could happily have stayed there for another half hour or so. Into the 69 position for a bit more mouth contact with her feminine parts, and then it was time to go in deeper with my now neglected member. On went the condom of course and the rest was very easy. I slipped out of her towards the end asked her to finish me with that delightful baby oil gel.

Altogether a highly relaxing experience from an accommodating lady who did what she had to do without fuss. I greatly appreciate the older woman, but I must point out that not everyone enjoys women in their 50s. Maybe it suits me because I'm in that age group myself. Tricia made me wish I'd got two hours rather than one.
