The Story:

I'd heard that Abby was the new lady at Judy's and as the location was convenient decided to call for an appointment at short notice. She fitted me in, and on one of the hottest evenings of the year I headed out to Chertsey. The location is a large detached house and is easy to find. The facilities were excellent: the power shower was a welcome item, a cold beer even more so. Abby greeted me in the minimum of clothing, soon discarded, revealing a firm tanned body that would not be out of place on a much younger girl. We chatted a little, until it seemed by unspoken agreement that the formality of a massage was an unnecessary precursor to some serious tongue action. The pace soon increased as it became apparent that this is one girl who likes her work, especially when receiving oral which brought her to a shuddering climax.

Now I'd like to say that this and the ones to follow were the result of my amazing technique, but I think I have to admit that it was more to do with Abby's appetite for sex. Nevertheless it can do a power of good for the self esteem of an ageing Lothario. I was more than serviced when it came to my turn, though lack of confidence in my ability to come more than once in the time caused me to exercise some restraint. I'm pleased I did as we progressed through the moves to end in a mutually satisfying doggy romp. As I left I checked the time ? I was surprised to find that it was just over the hour as so much action had made the experience seem a lot longer.

This is the first FR I have felt the need to submit, and before the normal tirade is unleashed by the usual suspects, consider this - I have no interest in accumulating an extensive punting history in print, but I do think an exceptional encounter such as this deserves a mention.
