The Premises:

In a quiet side road opposite Earl's Court tube station. A basement flat, with discreet entry door accessed through a security gate so you are hidden from the road.

I have visited the London Retreat on several occasions and always found the atmosphere safe, relaxing and pleasant. The flat is well kept and clean, the facilities and equipment well maintained. Soft classical music plays in the background and a good shower is available for use by clients.

The Lady:

As is often said in these reports the photos on the website don't do her justice. She is very pretty with long straight blonde hair, a beautiful body, slim but well toned, and with smooth flawless skin. I am an appalling judge of age but would say she is in her mid twenties, with a personality to match her looks.

The Story:

I have seen Lara now on 7 occasions, which is a record for me, and have been meaning to submit a report for some time. I enjoy domination, which the London Retreat does specialise in, and have found every lady I have seen there to be excellent. However I have returned to visit Lara so often for the simple reason that every session with her has been different and on each visit she finds something new and fascinating to do to me. Many ladies would stick to the same routine and probably lose my custom but Lara seems to take a real interest in thinking of new areas to explore and certainly makes me feel that we have a mutual interest in the type of domination I prefer. Over the last 18 months she has introduced me areas of submission I had not dreamt of before. I will not go into great detail about this except to say that if body worship or water sports are your pleasure you could not find a body more deserving of worship or a more talented performer than Lara. She is first class in every respect.
