The Premises:

Has already been exhaustively reported on. Very handy and discreet back door, but be prepared to be lit up on leaving after dark. The ever-cheerful Kelly was "in the office".

The Lady:

What a shame we can't see Daniella's lovely face on the website: sparkling eyes, beautiful complexion, film-star teeth, and a smile that would light up a drizzly January afternoon in West Norwood. Good English, after three years here (from Czechoslovakia). Conveys an overall impression of vitality, youth, health and zest for life. Training to be a physio and only works Wednesday.

The Story:

Clothes off and straight into the shower, for some warm, soapy mutual carressing of the important parts, including her large tits. Dried each other off and didn't hang about before getting into covered oral. Then on to the bed for some gentle non-penetrative kissing and reverse oral. Daniella had expressed some concern about my size, but a few minutes of tongue and finger work made her open and moist enough, and penetration was so easy that she wondered why she'd worried. Even so, she was reluctant to do doggie, and it was missionary most of the way, followed by wanking to completion. She took this a bit too fast, and by the time it had occurred to me to ask her to slow down, I was at the point of no return. Not that I worried about that, as I experienced a huge orgasm.

Daniella couldn't be more obliging, but, to be ultra-critical, one could easily feel that she's doing what you've paid for, professionally and apparently very happily, but without fully entering into things. Reading that last sentence back, I'm tempted to remove it, because the fact is that this young woman has much going for her, and it was an extremely enjoyable experience. I'd be astonished if I don't go back to Debbies on a Wednesday.
