The Lady:

Very nice tall black lady. Very friendly.

The Story:

Have read so much about Debbie's thought I would give it a try. Found the place easily, went downstairs and was told lady would be about 20 minutes. Asked to wait in kitchen behind curtain next door to very noisy washing machine. After 30 minute wait, invited into waiting room as other punter had left (and the other who was waiting had been shown into see the lady). Where on earth "20 mins" came from, I do not know, I waited 30 minutes and then the other punter was (I hoped) going to only be 30 minutes. If you are going to have to wait an hour, please be honest and tell people! I kept thinking about leaving but having driven 20 miles to get there did not want a wasted journey. The "maid" was obviously having some domestic problems, not her fault, but in a way wish I had'n't stayed.

Anyway, the lady was very good and pleasant. Given the treatment I doubt I will go back again.
