The Lady:

I was on the agencies website after work one day - usually I work long hours in the City, but on this particular occasion I managed to get out on time. I fancied a booking and was faced with the daunting prospect of having to choose one of the ladies from the many available.

One picture caught my eye and that was Anita - a blonde bombshell with an enticing smile. Susan as always courteously booked her and the location was easy to find (but then I am local to the area). When I finally did get to see her in person I was pleased to see she was every bit as aesthetic as portrayed in the pictures. Her figure is sumptuously slender - not waiflike, petite and complemented by the tight fitting attire worn for me that night.

Her personality immediately shone through as I was greeted with a smile and infectious laughter, disarming me of any nerves that I had.

The Story:

I have seen her now on numerous occasions. We commence with a glass of good wine and discuss events that have happened since we last met. Her English has improved considerably and she has a quirky sense of humour which often leaves me in stitches. Hygiene is an important requirement and she always makes an effort to smell fresh and perfumed, also as well showering facilities within the apartment are excellent.

When we move on to the sex, she delivers a highly satisfactory experience. I feel that perhaps to recapitulate the details would be a little crass, but I will say it is always passionate and immensely pleasurable. I appreciate that she cares about making the time spent together as good as possible. This I feel is a departure from some of the more established names at the agency who have succumbed to routine and hidden impassiveness.

In an ideal world I would still be able to keep on seeing her (and keep her to myself), however, work and the economy dictate that I have to leave for Europe soon. So I will leave with an indelible memory of my time with her - a little ray of light in the depressed times that we face.
