The Premises:

An anonymous flat in a large block of furnished accommodation some five or ten minutes walk from South Kensington tube station. A reception area rather than simply entry phone entrance, so just head confidently over to the lifts. In the flat Briony entertained me in the lounge the bedroom and the bathroom. All were well appointed, clean, neat and tidy though a little on the compact side. While not a place to rave about as a venue, certainly a very pleasant place for a punt.

The Lady:

Gorgeous! Photos are accurate - she's very pretty even by Oriental escort standards, delightfully petite and with a splendid figure. Enhanced boobs of course but nicely done, a slim but not skinny body, great legs and a glorious little arse. Hard to give her less than a ten. Her English is a bit fractured, though generally understandable. As is often the case she seemed to have a little difficulty understanding me. I guess I mumble too much - especially in the presence of such a beautiful lady. Personality wise Briony seemed bright and intelligent. She also seems completely sex mad. I've met many girls who are very keen to give me a good time - but only one or two others who've been so eager to drag me from one sensation to another. Exhilarating but occasionally almost a little intimidating.

The Story:

The short and sweet:

Incredible fun! Briony looks great, has a spectacular body and loves entertaining her clients. I had a fantastic time and was on the receiving end of a full range of services all delivered with skill as well as great enthusiasm. To be honest some of the time I felt I lost the plot a bit - was I there for her pleasure or she for mine? I certainly got the impression she was enjoying herself as much as I was. As a warning this was definitely not a GFE and most certainly a PSE. Very few girls I've met have been quite so wild and I can't recall any other who has so taken control of things and led me on such a roller coaster ride of sexual experiences. Not for the faint hearted, but definitely something to be repeated. Highly recommended.

For those with plenty of time to kill:

I've tended to be a bit of a serial monogamist as regards visits to Asian escorts visiting one almost exclusively then as she has moved on changing my allegiance to another. But I need to expand my range. Recommendations from FRs are thin now with FRs from many reputable agencies banned. The Forums help though and some research on PunterNet pointed to Briony. She does have some reports under her old working name but I'm not sure how open a secret her original identity is. At least a couple of messages on one of the Forum hint at what she used to call herself for those interested. It's not hard to join the dots especially when she hints at things herself (eg check out her web page on the site).

I made the booking in the morning, the process being efficiently and politely administered. A lady (who I took to be Thai) answered my call and I asked for an appointment at 14:30. She was uncertain if this was possible and asked if she could get back to me. I got a text message back a few minutes later to say Briony was free at 15:00. I phoned back to confirm this would be fine and a short time later got a text with the address.

In the afternoon I got to South Kensington and then the building where I was to meet Briony. It was larger than most places I've visited escorts and unlike most had a manned reception rather than a simple ansa-phone. Nervous punter that I am I had to steel myself a bit before doing my best to wander nonchalantly from the main doors and over the lifts. I was ignored. Possibly no one noticed me or I looked as if I belonged. Of course maybe I was ignored because I was obviously a punter - I guess there are probably quite a few girls working there.

Briony's room seemed to be about as far from the lift as one could manage. I got there pretty much on the dot of three o'clock and rang the bell. A girl opened the door a crack and seeming slightly flustered asked if I could come back in five minutes. I assured her this wouldn't be a problem and took a wander around that floor of the building. This conveniently took around five minutes. On my return I could hear someone vacuuming. I paused a moment or two and then rang the bell again.

Briony - more recognisable second time around - turned off the Hoover and answered the door. She invited me in. She was dressed in a gauzy top, which did little to conceal her braless boobs, a short skirt with a thong underneath, black hold ups and the obligatory and ludicrously high-heeled mules. She smiled and led me into a small lounge area, seating me down on a sofa. Briony's next gambit was to casually expose one of her very nice boobs. While I was examining this with interest she asked if I'd like a drink. Coice was a little limited but I got a glass of nice white wine. Then while I was trying to sip on this she decided to get my cock out. My experience is Asian escorts have no qualms about groping clients from the off, but even so Briony's directness was a little disconcerting. Doing my best to seem as if this always happened I tried to go the flow.

Pretty soon I found myself debugged while Briony knelt on the floor sucking hard on my cock. I struggled out of the rest of my kit, while she started licking my balls. Then pushing me back and getting my legs up, she gave my arse a good rimming. I was soon going gaga over this. Briony then got back to sucking on my cock again before moving back to my balls and then giving my arse another very through tonguing.

By this point my cock was so stiff it was aching. I needed release. At this point Briony now did something so outrageous I daren't mention it - before pulling me up off the sofa and taking my place. Now I was ordered to stand on the sofa astride her and to fuck her face. Mad with lust, I was quite happy to obey! After very little time I gave a roar of delight and squirted my load into her mouth. My cock twitched madly between her lips as jolt after jolt of ecstasy racked my body, then legs wobbling madly I pulled myself away from her and staggered backwards off the sofa. I reeled about a bit before recovering my balance. Briony evidently pleased with herself got up and helped me slump down on the sofa while she disappeared for a moment or two.

But there was no peace for the wicked - or at least very little. Briony returned and dragged me off the bedroom. Having placed me on the bed she then speculated as to what I wanted her to dress up in. She decided I'd like her as a schoolgirl and grabbing a few items disappeared for a minute or two before returning in short skirt, shirt and tie. I'd have been happy with her as she was, but figure wise she makes quite a good schoolgirl and she certainly had a suitably fun filled giggly persona to go with it.

Briony decided to give me a massage with baby oil while waiting for me to recover for round two. This was pleasant enough, but I was eager to play almost at once and subverted the massage, by twisting around to lick her pussy through the crotch of her little white thong. Her response to this interference was to get off the bed and return with some handcuffs and a blindfold. I was chained to the bed and my eyes covered up while Briony now set to work on my cock, sucking on it as well as applying a little oil as she wanked it hard. The blindfold might be a fun concept - but I wanted to watch! I contrived to push it up so I could watch as this lovely girl devoured my cock. Soon I was stiff and ready. I urged her to roll on a condom. The oil was carefully wiped away and I was covered up.

Briony climbed into the saddle facing me. Leaning forwards she pumped my rigid pole in and out. She altered position, now leaning backwards legs apart so I had a great view of my rod pushing deep into her tight little quim. Then she pulled her legs up so she was squatting astride my cock as she forced it in and out. This was all great fun, but while I like to be ridden for a while, I prefer to be in control. By now I had untangled my wrists from the handcuffs. Wriggling down the bed and sitting up, I contrived to stand up, lifting Briony with me, still impaled on my cock. I bounced her up and down a little in a standing position before depositing her onto the bed on her back, with me still standing on the floor. I fucked her for a little while like this before shuffling her a little more onto the bed and moving onto it myself. With Briony's cooperation this was managed without a pause in my pumping of her snug snatch. Now she drew her legs up, her knees pretty much up to her armpits to maximise penetration. It looked awesome and felt even better. We carried on like this for some time before moving into doggy. This was glorious, her lovely taut rump pushing back firmly to meet me as I bulled away noisily voicing my appreciation. I was getting close now, but wanted to try one more thing before coming again.

Briony seemed quite keen on anal - I had mentioned I wanted to fuck her arse earlier on - so when I suggested we do this to finish, she immediately began making arrangements, sliding off the bed and grabbing some lube. She positioned herself standing by the bed leaning over it with one leg on it. I moved in from behind and attempted to gain access to her nether portal. Somehow it didn't work. Briony was not to be thwarted though and decided to try a different approach. I was ordered onto the bed and lay back as she scrambled over me with her back to me and squatted down on my cock. In a trice she was applying the knob of my cock to her rosebud and pushing back and down trying to force it past her sphincter. We both grunted in satisfaction as she achieved her goal. My cock squeezed through the ring of muscle into the warmth of her bottom. Having skewered her arse on my cock, Briony then began to ride me, her taut little ass a blur as she pumped my cock in and out of her bowels. I held on for as long as I could - which was not long at all - then with a roar of delight I exploded deep inside her entrails.

After letting me come down a little Briony dismounted and tidied me up a little. She heaped extravagant praise onto me. She went a little OTT I think - I've never been told I have "the best cock in London" before - but it brought a smile to my face. After getting my breath back I accepted the offer of a shower. While Briony danced attendance on me in the bathroom I was a little disappointed she declined to join me in the shower itself - saying she would have one later. Once I was washed and dried she conducted me back to the lounge, gathered up my scattered clothing and helped me dress while we held a slightly disjointed conversation. Finally with a deep kiss a cuddle and some mutual groping we said farewell and on rather wobbly pins I made my way back towards the office.

Overall:

Wow! Briony's performance was amazing - to be honest a little outside my comfort zone - but fantastic fun. Spectacular sex, spectacularly delivered by a spectacular girl. Definitely a lady at the top of game.
