The Story:

Having read all of Briony's previous reports - I just had to book her. I'm not normally in to BDSM - but the Deep Throat experience is worth submitting to. Althoguh Briony ties your hands and blindfolds you - you can easily escape if necessary - and she promises not to leave any marks. As a previous author has written - just submit yourself to the experience - it is out of this World! She seems to have developed a routine - and previous reports more than adequately describe the experience you will get. I too was subjected to sniffing a fragrance - which turned out to be a perfume you pour onto Pot Pourri - it made me a little light headed for a moment and definitely cleared my sinuses! She also used some sort of electrical device which left a tingling sensation - but at no point did I feel out of control. After a whirlwind hour - the room had all manner of clothing and devices strewn about the place and the sheets were covered in baby oil and cum. I will definitely return - and she promised to change her routine to something else in the New Year - one can only imagine what she has in mind!
